of complaints which they are prevented from dealing with under the classification law.

They explained that the situation in the bureau of engraving and printing and the government printing office is one in which numerous employes are excluded by law from classification and others are not, the Treasury Department fixing the rates of pay of the former in conformity with prevailing ones.

While such a situation may not promote industrial harmony, it was said that there is no recourse under prevailing legislation; that a careful survey of classified positions had been made, and that petitioners should seek from Congress and not the personnel classification board a remedy for a situation which the board will probably be prevented by existing law from changing. Board officials said that the request would be fully considered and investigated, however. Once more the anniversary of that tremendous day when glad news of the Armistice flashed round the world.

Stillwater, Minn., Nov. 10 (By A. P.).—George Lawrence, 12 years old, is the recipient of one of the strangest legacies on record in Minnesota. With him rests the secret of the method used by his uncle, "Fisherman" John Jeremy, 41 years old, who died yesterday, and "Fisherman" John's father, in recovering bodies of drowned persons.

"Fisherman" John won a national reputation, his relatives holding he had recovered 500 bodies. The secret of his skill was guarded zealously. He obtained it from his father, who is said to have recovered nearly 1,000 bodies. The secret, under the traditions of the family; must remain with a descendant of the elderly Jeremy, so young George became the possessor.

The Jeremys never attempted to recover a body until the crowds of curious had departed. Occasionally they worked at night.

P.) .- The song of President Coolidge's own college fraternity, "On a Fiji Honeymoon," of Phi Gamma Delta, sung by Pi Beta Phi sorority sisters of Mrs. Coolidge from Butler university, brought the warmth of college fraternalism to a reception for the chief executive's party during a brief stop here of his train en route to Kansas City.

After singing sorority songs in which Mrs. Coolidge joined, the girls broke into the strains of "On a Fiji Honeymoon," at which the President swept off his hat. His smile broadened to unphotographed proportions as the voices sang of "porch swing big enough for one but strong nough for two."

As they ceased, he applauded rigorously amid laughter of embers of his party.

EIGHT YEARS.

When millions of armed men ceased firing on this day eight years ago it was universally expected that peace would be easily made and permanently secured. Who at that time dreamed of the strange events that were to occur in the succeeding eight years? Who dreamed that peace would be more difficult than war?

Looking back over the time that has elapsed since November 11, 1918, it is evident that the most important action in that period, so far as Americans are concerned, was that which kept the United States free from entanglement in Europe

On account of the great desire of Americans to cooperate in any practicable plan for promoting world peace it was with much difficulty that they were dissuaded from making the mistake of pledging the United States to an experiment which, in the last analysis, would have made this country responsible for the maintenance of peace in Europe. They finally understood the extent and importance of the commitments to which they were asked to subscribe, and their rejection of the plan was emphatic.

So fixed is the opposition to Americans to the experiment set up in Europe that the Senate, in voting to adhere to the world court protocol, imposed the condition that the agreement should not be taken to involve the United States in any legal relation to the league of nations or the assumption by this country of any obligations under the covenant of the league.

At the end of eight years the United States remains free to determine its own foreign policy, war or no war. It is not bound to agree or disagree with other powers in attempts to avert wars or to fight wars. It is not required to examine into the political quarrels of Europe or other regions, in order to make effective by its forces, if need be, a plan for settling those quarrels. It is not the ally or the enemy of any nation.

The United States is richer, more populous and more powerful than it was eight years ago, when it turned the scales of world war. Its ability to make war is greater than that of any other nation that has ever existed. termination not to make war, unless assailed, is as fixed as is its determination to remain independent. It owes its independence to nobody but itself. Nobody but itself can decide whether it shall make war. No league, no court, no foreign conference or tribunal has acquired any right to tell the United States where its duty lies.

The Unknown Soldier fought to maintain the rights of the United States. He can sleep well, because the United States remains absolutely free and independent, with none of its rights bargained away. The people of the United States have kept faith with the Unknown Soldier and with every patriot who has fallen in defense of the American flag, from Lexington to Metz.

SEEDLESS APPLES.

Ever since the development of the seedless orange the orchardists of the United States have been hoping and praying for the discovery of the seedless apple. That miracle has oc curred. A seedless apple tree is bearing fruit this year not far from Montreal, Canada, protected and guarded from harm with all the care that skilled hands can provide. This mystery tree is potential in great wealth for its owner: its apples, if they mature, will surpass in value the fabled fruit of gold. millions who "eat their apple a day to keep the doctor away" will follow the fate of that lone tree with an intensity of interest beyond the ken of those who have not acquired the apple-eating habit.

And it all came about by accident. How this seedless apple, which is elongated like a sheep's nose and has a wonderful flavor, originated. no one knows. That it is growing on the farm of one Arthur Buzzell is vouchsafed as a matter of accurate and unimpeachable information. He received the tree from a nursery with a number of ether saplings, and in the course of time it grew to maturity and two years ago astonished the farmer with the character of its product. Last year it was barren but again it gives promise of an abundant

If the species can be developed a fortune awaits Farmer Buzzell. Naturally he is not ticular kind of apple his worries about crop prices are over for good and all. The seedless orange brought untold millions to the citrus fruit belt. The seedless apple will do like-United States.

PROPOSED TAX RELIEF.

It is said that the proposed tax credit plan giving individual and corporation income taxpayers a credit of 12 1/2 per cent on 1927 inome taxes will relieve some 20,000,000 income taxpayers. Since the number of individual and corporation income taxpayers numbers less than 8,000,000, it is evident that the estimate of 20,000,000 is meant to include stockholders in corporations.

The total internal revenue collections for the fiscal year 1926 amounted to more than $2,835,999,000; More than $369,534,000 were paid by manufacturers and consumers of tobacco, more than $150,000,000 were paid under the excise tax head, more than $104,-000,000 under the special tax head, and more than $116,000,000 under the estate tax head. How can the millions who pay these internal revenue taxes be relieved of 121/2 per cent of what they pay in 1927?

The corporation income tax is usually paid by the corporation itself. It would not be possible to credit to each individual stockholder his or her 12 1/2 per cent, hence the relief would go to the corporation, not to the individual stockholders. The relief to smaller stockholders or life insurance policyholders would be very small.

A flat 121/2 per cent credit on individual and corporation income taxes due in 1927 would naturally give the largest relief to individuals and corporations paying the largest taxes. The relief to those paying smaller taxes would be inconsiderable. For example, in 1925 the total number of individual income taxpayers in the $1,000 to $2,000 class was about 2,413,000, who paid a total income tax of about $10,432,000. The average was about $4.25 each. A 121/2 per cent credit would be of little moment. The total number in the $25,000 to $50,000 class was about 74,800, who paid an income tax of about $109,350,000. The average was about $1,500. A credit of 12 1/2 per cent would amount to omething like $375 each.

These considerations suggest the difficulties of affording relief by means of a temporary makeshift. Such a plan is open to political attack, since it will certainly give by far the greatest relief to those having large incomes, and no relief whatever to the army of internal revenue taxpayers who pay no income tax.

It is said that the 25 per cent reduction in the revenue act of 1924 is a precedent for a 121/2 per cent credit in the taxes of 1927. The 25 per cent reduction referred to is title 12 of the act of 1924, and refers wholly to excess payments and cases where payments overlap periods coming partly under the old ct and partly under the new act. These provisions were only administrative, and were a part of the law itself.

LONG HOURS FOR WOMEN.

If organized labor meant what it said at its cent national convention, when it went on record favoring a 40-hour work week, there would seem to be a fertile field for its activities among the women workers of New York In most of the general trades the maximum number of work hours a week is 44, but the Women's Trade Union league and other organizations of kindred purpose in the Empire State are now fighting to keep the hours of labor for women from exceeding a maximum of 48. dustrial conditions indicate that there is a discrimination against women, while on every imaginable ground the discrimination ought to be in their favor. If there is reason and justice in reducing the hours of labor of men to 44 each week, it should be accounted an outrage to insist upon a longer period of toil for comen. Here is an opportunity for organized labor to employ its influence in a way that will meet with general public approval.

This question of hours of labor of women comes up at public hearings before the New industrial survey commission. Representatives of the Woman's Party and certain other organizations opposed the pro posed legislation on the ground that to limit the hours of labor of women would place them at a disadvantage in earning a living. Prominent New York and Massachusetts establish ments have operated successfully and prospered under a 48-hour basis, and representatives of the working women, themselves, strongly urged that that maximum be written into the statutes. It is strange that at a time when organized labor is complaining of the 44-hour work week, women must be fighting to prevent the imposition of nine or more hours of labor a day.

Legislation fixing a 48-hour week as the maximum, it was claimed, would establish a competitive equity between progressive firms now operating under such a schedule and others who still maintain longer hours. It is surprising to learn that with the needle trades unionized and organized as they are in New York city, and acting in conjunction with the American Federation of Labor, it is necessary for working women to seek legislative aid in preventing general establishment of a longer working day. All the arguments advanced at the recent Detroit convention favoring a fiveday work week are applicable to the case of the women workers of New York, besides which there are moral and physical grounds that do not apply to the men workers.

THE YARDSTICK OF THE UNIVERSE.

At a meeting of the National Academy of Science in Philadelphia last Monday, Prof. Albert C. Michelson, of the University of Chicago, made public his discovery that the speed of light has been estimated at approximately 40 miles too fast. Prof, Michelson is famous in the realm of physical science for his many discoveries, and particularly for his invention of the interferometer, an instrument used for measuring the speed of light. Hitherto light has been supposed to travel at a speed of 299,-860 kilometers a second. After a lifetime of study, however, verified by observations made last summer in the mountains of California, Prof. Michelson has come to the conclusion that the actual speed is 299,796 kilometers a second.

To the casual observer this difference in speed between 186,270 and 186,310 miles a sec- call a halt.

shouting aloud his discovery, but he knows ond would seem to be negligible. Actually, if he can perpetuate and propagate this par- however, it is of vital importance to science, for the speed of light is the basic factor upon which other calculations are founded. The movement of the earth, for instance, is calculated upon the speed of light. This is true also wise for the apple growers of Canada and the of the movement of the planets. Should the correction be accepted the measurement of the universe will have to be revised.

The real credit, of course, should go to science and the scientific mind. Continually seeking the truth, accepting no fact or theory until after rigid test, each new discovery or correction of error adds immeasurably to the world's slim store of knowledge. As finer instruments are devised, possibly the corrected figure of the speed of light will have to be changed again. Each change, however, places science one step nearer the basic understanding of the universe, upon which and the quest for which all knowledge is founded.

LA PLATA'S TRAGEDY.

Writhing and twisting and rushing forward with the speed of an express train, there appeared out of nowhere day before yesterday a funnel-shaped gust of wind which mowed a clean swath only a few hundred feet wide through the town of La Plata, Md., and then disappeared again into thin air. During its brief existence it leveled houses and trees, and lifted a schoolhouse from its foundations with a resultant casualty list of 15 dead and 23 injured. Had the tornado occurred an hour later the school building would have been empty. If the cloud had followed a different course, even a few hundred feet one way or the other, the disaster would have been greatly minimized. As it was, however, the tornado, rushing through a relatively sparsely settled countryside, picked the one hour and the one course, whereby the greatest disaster could have been accomplished.

The story of the 50 or more children toddling off to school in the morning swinging their schoolbooks, many of whom never will return home, and of others who are lying now in hospitals and other institutions recuperating from severe injuries, needs no retelling. It is, of itself, stark and mysterious tragedy. The response of the military and naval authorities, the city of Washington, and other neighboring communities was immediate and gratifying. No blame can be placed, for despite the fact that La Plata seems to be of the opinion that a brick or stone structure might have withstood the onslaught of the elements, the weather bureau asserts that no structure could have been expected to withstand the strain.

STUDYING TO BE READY.

There can be no more opportune time than Armistice day upon which to consider the statement of Assistant Secretary of War Mac-Nider, made before the Advertising club last Tuesday, that "there is no threat in our voice when we ask for industrial mobilization during peace time, so that in event of another war our whole economic system will not be disorganized and thrown into confusion as it was during the world war." This, of course, is merely reiteration of the principal lesson gleaned by the War Department from the late war, which it has been attempting to impress on the American public for the last eight

Peace and security are impossible without preparedness of both men and industry. To provide for trained men and suitable officer material the various C. M. T. C. summer camps have been inaugurated all over the country. So that industry may be prepared to take up its share of the burden in the event of a national emergency, the War Department desires to con duct a series of surveys to discover what industries can produce the materials necessary to outfit the military forces.

The plan is so wise that it should receive full-hearted support. If in the event of emergency a practical working plan for industry has been provided beforehand, the economic structure of the country can adapt itself to the situation and there will not be unnecessary delay in getting a force into the field. Actually, during the last war it is said that the American army did not receive its first machine guns until one day after the armistice.

Aside from the military aspects of the plan. however, there is the humanitarian side. The war did not cease until America had put its shoulder to the wheel and the enemy had felt its power. It seems logical to suppose that had our armies taken the field sooner the war would have been terminated sooner. According to the War Department the total casualties of the United States in the world war averaged over 600 a day. If the armies could have been placed in the field even 30 days sooner, 18,000 casualties would have been avoided. Should war be forced upon the country the plan of the War Department to have industry ready would not be long in proving its value.

BROKERS' LOANS.

It appears that the total of brokers' loans for speculative purposes in New York city alone is more than $3,200,000,000, and the total in the whole country is estimated to be in excess of $5,500,000,000. If the figures are correct a situation is presented which the Federal Re serve Board should not ignore.

According to the daily Treasury statement of November 6 last, the volume of Federal Reserve notes outstanding was $2,060,346,000 while national bank notes totaled $699.979. 000, making a total of paper credit currency outstanding of $2,759,000,000, not including greenbacks or government notes. Gold and silver certificates are simply receipts for so much gold and silver in the Treasury.

Federal Reserve notes form the bulk of the credit money outstanding. This is the currency issued to Federal Reserve banks when brokers' loans are made. It goes without saying that the high level of these notes is a dan ger signal.

Brokers' loans are made almost wholly for speculation. They do not contribute to the production of wealth. They tend to sustain high prices and thus work an injury to the public, especially that part conducting productive industries. The aim of leaders of business has been to lower the price level, and make dollars and credit contribute to the creation of more wealth, so that the wealth will justify reasonable credit issues. If brokers' loans continue to soar without check, speculation will run to excess and the public will suffer. It is time to

The question of a trip of inspection by the jury to the Phillips farm, scene of the murders, and surrounding territory, including De Russey's lane, was undetermined at adjournment of court today. The defense will object, counsel announced, on the ground of change of tengraphy since September 14.

Hall and Mrs. Mills had been the subject of common gossip among members of the guild of the minister's church long before the couple were slain.

Case objected to the introduction of gossip which "Dame Rumor might have shouted from the housetops."

On Night of Murder.

Miss Tough said that she heard Mrs. Hall go from her bedroom to the bathroom and return on the night of September 14, 1922, just before the "big clock downstairs" struck 2. The next morning she was told by Mrs. Hall, "Mr. Hall hasn't been home all night." The witness then asked her mistress, she said, if she had notified the police and received a negative reply with the information that she had telephoned the hospitals.

Later in the day, according to the witness, Mrs. Hall said: "Oh, Barbara, where is Mr. Hall?"

Asked if she had seen Henry Stevens at the Hall home, the witness answered affirmatively.

The witness said that Willie Stevens had a small rifle, always resting in a closet, and a revolver he kept locked in his deak. He had never heard of any fingerprints having been found. Simpson argued successfully that this would be hearsay evidence.

The wound was made by a "very shife," he said.

Maid Springs Surprise.

Miss Tough sprang a surprise when, just before she left the stand, she was shown a transcript of her contention that Mrs. Jane Gibson, testimony at the first grand jury star witness for the State, had ridinvestigation in which she was den her mule, Jenny, to the Philauoted as saying Mrs. Hall "was lips' farm the night of the slaying. Edward Schwartz, one of the State's fingerprint experts, yesterday had testified that he saw a hoof print on the ground when he visited the spot 44 days after the slaying.

Totten said a handkerchief and a powdarpuff were found in the pocket of a scarf that was wrapped about Mrs. Mills' body. The hand-kerchief is still among the State's evidence, but the powderpuff has disappeared.

Case, in his cross-examination of the witness, stressed the fact that the eyeglasse, found in their proper position on the Rev. Mr. Mill's face, were in good condition, but they now are broken. The defense attorney, by his questions, indicated that he was driving this point to show that if the eyeglasses were handled in such a way as to be broken after being found, the calling card alleged to bear Willie Stevens' fingerprint, likewise was handled much during the years after the double slaying.

Totten said there was a dental Case, in his cross-examination of Last week, when the State introduced the clothing worn by the minister and the choir singer, at the time they were slain, a black slouch hat belonging to Willie Stevens was taken from the box containing the other clothing, and there had been much speculation as to whether the State would contend that this hat was found at the scene of the crime. Case turned to this subject in crossexamining Totten, and the witness said he believed it was taken from the Hall home, after the slaying. It was not found at the scene of the crime, Totten said.

Totten told of "grilling" Willie Stevens.

Milk Bottle Week Planned by Dealers

Milk dealers of Washington lose 20,000 milk bottles each day, and the loss is growing to such an extent that they met in the offices of the Merchants and Manufacturers association yesterday to organize a "bring-back-the-bottle" week. Fallure of persons to whom milk is delivered to return the bottles adds thousands of dollars annually to the cost of distribution, the dealers said.

W. A. Simpson is the head of a committee which will conduct the campaign to get back the missing bottles and Edward D. Shaw, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers association, has asked the Boy Scouts to aid in the collection. Headquarters of the campaign will be in the Milk Bottle Exchange. 460 K street northwest, whence messengers will be dispatched for bottles whenever they are located.

The utmost help

One help has proved itself the utmost for a cold. It is so efficient, so quick and complete that we paid $1,000,000 for it. That way is HILL'S. It does four things at once. It stops the cold in a day, checks the fever, opens the bowels, then tones the entire system. It has won millions by proving that nothing else compares. Don't rely on lesser help and day' day' day' day' and a cold so the stock of the store is the principal of which is the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal Co.

"Get me Cherry 3500," she told the operator.
"Hello," she said, when the connection was made. "Give me Mr. Morton's room." There was a short wait. "Hello, there! This is Marcie. I called as soon as I could—I was delayed—delayed by a friend.—I haven't had any dinner!—No, I've had so much company—who? Oh, a girl friend ran into me in the lobby.—Yes, I'll wait."

She sped to the dressing room on the mezzanine floor, adjusted her hair and her hat, approved of her appearance, and returned to the lobby, where she took a seat near the door. It was only a few minutes before Harry Morton came in, swinging his cane, his hat cocked fauntily on the side of his head. "How on earth did you find out
I was here?" was her greeting.
"Come on—I'll buy food, and

Women Tell

Others how this new hygienic pad discards easily as tissue --- no laundry

BECAUSE one woman so advises others, and because doctors so urge, most women are deserting the old-time "sanitary pad" for a new and better way.

Eight in 10 better-class women now use "KOTEX." Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment. Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads. Deodorizes, thus ending ALL danger of offending.

Obtainable at all drug and department stores simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Package of 12 costs only a few cents. Proves old ways a needless risk. In fairness to yourself, try it

SIXTH OF INVESTED U. S. CAPITAL GOES TO 56 CORPORATIONS

417,000 Smaller Concerns Divide Remaining Five-Sixths Among Themselves.

BIG INDUSTRIES' BONDS TOTAL $7,000,000,000

Five Companies Have About 1 Per Cent Each of Nation's Stock.

By WILLIAM P. HELM, JR.

America's mammoth corporations have proved magnets for the investor's dollars. There is someinvestor's dollars. There is something about the bigness of a great and going concern that tends to create a feeling of safety to a greater degree, apparently, than in the case of a smaller company, no matter how sound or prosperous. Fifty-six of the country's 57 leading corporations, a survey shows, represent nearly one-sixth of the invested capital of all corporations in the United States. The other 417,000 smaller corporations disconnected by W. E. Hibbs & Co.) 417,000 smaller corporations divide among them the other five-sixths of the capital invested in American corporate industry

These 56 companies—the Ford Motor Co., privately owned by two stockholders, has been excepted from the full list—have capital stock outstanding to an estimated value of somewhat more than $13,-000,000,000. In addition, they have bonds outstanding to a grand total of nearly $7,000,000,000, par

Returns made public within the last few days by the bureau of in-ternal revenue of the Treasury Department show the fair value of the combined capital stock issues of all the 417,000 corporations of the country runs to about $81,000,000,-000. Such were the figures for 1925. A calculation shows that the 57 leading companies have out-standing somewhat in excess of 16 per cent of all the capital stock issues of the United States. Five large companies alone—American Telephone & Telegraph, United States Steel, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California and General Motors—have out-standing capital stock to the value of about 5 per cent of all the capital stock of all the corporations the United States.

Concerns Favored Alike.

These five leviathans in the in dustrial sea average about 1 per cent each of the capital stock inestment in American corporations Placing them in one group, and the remaining corporations in the other, it will be seen that investors have favored each of these companies, on the average, to the same extent, in round figures, as they have favored more than 4,000 other companies combined, so far as capital stock is concerned.

The bonded debt of the 56 companies which lead the list in prosperity this year likewise shows the favor with which the investing public takes to great aggregations of capital. All told, the government's figures indicate, there were outstanding last year more than $30,000,000,000 in corporations bonds. Of that figure the bonds of the 56 corporations combined accounted for nearly $7,000,000,000,000 to gat value, or almost one-fourth of all the corporate bonds outstanding in the United States.

Twenty-six of these 56 leading corporations, however, had no outstanding funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000 bond issues of the ening funded debt, so that $7,000,000,000,000,000,000 bond issues of

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co.'s funded debt runs to more than $380,000,000 on and that of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. is put down at more than $210,000,000. Other funded debts, including guaranteed securities, include the following:

Bethlehem Steel Corporation, $215,000,000; United States Rubber Co., $111,000,000; United States Rubber Co., $111,000,000; United States than $75,000,000.

Out of gross profits, of course, must come first of all the interest payments on the funded debt of these corporations. The record indicates that during 1925, the 56 leading companies paid out about $420,000,000 in interest on their bonds. This was at the rate of about $200,000 for every hour of twork during the year.

A striking illustration of the success which generally attends the operation of work during the year.

COMING TO THE THEATERS

John Philip Sousa, the bandmaster, who will give two concerts in the Washington auditorium on the afternoon and night of Friday, November 19, has notified Washington school authorities that all children attending public and parochial schools in this city will be given the minimum rate at his matinee concert.

Seats for Sousa's concerts ordinarily sell from 50 cents to $1.50. For the children the highest priced seats in the house will be 50 cents. Teachers accompanying the students will receive the same minimum rate. L. J. Fosse, manager of the Washington auditorium, has been given a supply of tickets to take care of the school children. These tickets will be disbursed at the box office to any child applying and giving the name of the school attended.

Further to accommodate the children, Lieut. Comdr. Sousa has ordered that his afternoon concert start at 4:30 o'clock, after school hours, thus giving the children plenty of time to get from the classrooms to the auditorium.

Sousa, a native of Washington, is Revival of the question of rail-road mergers in the Northwestern region helped stocks operating in this district somewhat. The prediction that Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington eventually would join hands in a corporate marriage, however, was regarded in the best-informed circles as somewhat trite. It has been well known in financial circles for some time that under the general consolidation scheme an effort would be made to bring these three properties together.

Pathe Class A stock to a new low for the year, and a rally to its previous final price, was a similar morning feature.

Foreign exchanges were exceptionally dull, the only feature being a 7-point rebound by the French franc, nearly wiping out its loss of yesterday. Continued repatriation of capital and short covering were probably the chief factors in the rise, which seems to have been checked only temporatily by the profit taking yesterday.

appearance. Trading showed a further falling off in volume, and was confined largely to professional operators.

The report of another increase of more than 25,000 barrels in crude oil production last week was offset, in part, by an advance in certain grades of spindletop crude prices. Active cellaneous groups standard and miscellaneous groups standard and miscellaneous groups standard within narrow and irregular limits.

In the industrial group, new 1926 peak prices were attained by American Scating, Bancitaly Corporation, Continental Tobacco. Estey Welte, Home Insurance and International Projector, while Central Leather preferred (when issued) and Ford of Canada broke to new low prices, the latter slumping 11 points to 350, as against a new high of 655 earlier in the year.

Warner Pictures B rallied over 2 points at the expense of an overgrowded short interest, and good buying was noted in American Cynamid, Chicago Nipple and Todd Shipping, but United Biscult, National Casket and Atlas Portland Cement were heavy.

Public utilities pointed upward, with the strength of American Light and Traction and Electric Bond and Share as the outstanding features.

WHY SMITH BONDS ARE SAFE BONDS

As the result of 53 years of proven safety in real estate first mortgage investments, The F. H. Smith Company has gained the confidence of investors throughout the world. Men and women in 48 States and in 33 countries and territories abroad have selected Smith Bonds for the investment of their funds.

This 53-year record of proven safety has been established, and the confidence of these thousands of investors has been gained, because the first mortgages securing Smith Bonds are conservatively made.

We require of the owners that the building sites be chosen with a view to future as well as to present values; the buildings designed by skilled architects and constructed by responsible builders; the locations and types of building must be selected in response to a well-established rental demand; and the first mortgages are made only for safe, conservative percentages of values determined by independent, expert appraisers.

Then, for the further protection of investors in Smith Bonds, part of each issue is paid off annually, thus constantly increasing the margin of safety.

NO LOSS TO ANY INVESTOR 53 YEARS

Smith Bonds, paying 6½%, are sold in $1,000, $500 and $100 denominations, outright or under our Investment Savings Plan, which pays the full rate of bond interest on monthly payments. Fill out and mail the form below for our booklets, "Fifty-three Years of Proven Safety" and "How to Build an Independent Income"

New York, Nov. 10 (By A. P.).—
Claiming to have been stranded here by failure of the team's backers to pay them for two weeks, gridiron stars recruited from Southern universities to represent Newark in the American Professional Football league, today announced they had retained Dudley Field Malone as attorney to sue the league for salary and expenses.

The players, including Doga Wyckoff, former backtield acc of the Georgia Tech team, insist that a clause in their contracts atipulates that return expenses to their homes be paid in the event of disbandment. Newark was withdrawn from the league a few days ago as a result of poor attendance at three successive games.

NAVY TO USE ELEVEN WHICH BEAT MICHIGAN

Hilltoppers' first line defense, counled with ways and means to hold "Babe" Connaughton, giant of the Blue and Gray line.

With Georgetown plays and formations, gained from scouts, thoroughly instilled into the shock troops, the varsity outfit put up a defense that was gratifying to the staff of coaches and, on the offensive, the team also went at its work with a vim and dash that was likewise pleasing.

That the Middles would start the game with the same combination that pulled the pins from under Michigan was the announcement made tonight by "Navy Bill" Ingram, chief field coach. This consists of Lloyd and Harwick, ends; Wickhorst and Eddy, tackles; Cross and Born, guards: Hoerner, center; Goudge, quarterback; Hannegan and Caldwell, halfbacks, and Hamilton, fullback.

One of Navy's biggest assets this season is the large number of first-rate replacement men. Navy people generally are anticipating the hardest kind of a fight from the Blue and Gray. One thing that seems to stand out as a certainty is that it will be a battle between two powerful lines, and there is little to choose between the opposing backfields. Officials of the Navy Athletic association and the academy in general are all set to play. association and the academy in general are all set to play host to a record-breaking football crowd for Annapolis.

Harold F. Woodcock, manager of the Yale Athletic association, said that the rupture was most regrettable from Yale's standpoint, because it upset the triple agreement executed several years ago. He had thought, he said, the differences between the results of the said of the differences between the results ago.

William J. Bingham, director of athletics at Harvard, absolutely declined to comment on the matter, pending receipt of the letter announcing the break from Dr. Charles W. Kennedy, chairman of the Princeton board of athletic control.

As Shock to Cambridge
Cambridge, Nov. 10 (By A. P.)
News that Princeton had definitely broken all athletic relations with Harvard burst like a bombshell in Cambridge tonight.

Announcement of the break through press dispatches came as a stunning surprise to undergraduates, officers of the college and athletic directors alike, despite the threatened break last summer, later patched up at a Big Three conference in New Haven, and the jibes of the Harvard Lampoon, undergraduate comic magazine, on the day of the Princeton-Harvard football game last Saturday.

William J. Ringham dispates

Director Bingham tonight in declining comment until official copy of

Because of the abruptness of the announcement concrete expressions of opinion were difficult to obtain, but the Harvard Crimson, student daily publication, was first in the field with an interpretation of what probably will prove to be disruption of the Big Three.

Editorially, the Crimson tomorrow will commend the New Jersey 200 will commend the N mendable to those who truly research and the country—in color of the c

C. U. ENTRAINS DUNN'S DOGS FOR HOLY TAKE THREE CROSS PLACES

Cardinals Confident Field Trials Closely of Making Good Showing.

ATHOLIC UNIVERSITY'S football team hopes to figure in one of the major upsets that are making the rounds of the nation's gridirons this season. The Cardinals leave tonight at 7 o'clock for Worcester, Mass., the home of the Holy Cross eleven, which they are booked to meet on Saturday. Holy Cross is one of the undefeated teams of the East, and although a victory is beyond the though a victory is beyond the hopes of many Catholic university rooters, it is agreed that the Card nals will give the Worcester eleven Fortunately, Coach McAu-liffe will be able to exhibit his full backfield strength. A live-ly drill was indulged in yester-day in which Manfreda, recently on the injured list, showed to advantage. Lafond and Mayer, linemen, will be unable to play.

The party, which leaves tonight, includes 27 players, Coach McAuliffe, Athletic Director Moran, Trainer Mitchell and Manager Dick-

What Is a Good Name For a Boy's Club?

The Washington Post will, in the very near future, organize a club for white boys between the ages of 10 to 15 years.

The club members will have access to gymnasium, motion pictures and different entertainments will be given the members. Meetings will be held weekly.

Hundreds of boys will naturally want to enter this club, therefore The Washington Post wants a name chosen that will have an appeal to the largest number of boys.

FIVE DOLLARS

In gold will be awarded to any boy in Washington between the ages of 10 to 15 years who, in the opinion of the judges, chooses a title that is accepted for the name of The Washington Post boy's club.

All titles must be postmarked not later than 12 p. m., November 25, to be entitled to the award. The judges' decision will be final. In the event of one or more participants choosing the same title duplicate awards will be made, providing all rule

FOREIGN DIVISION IS QUIET

New York, Nov. 10 (By A. P.). The underlying ease of money con-ditions held the bond market firm today, but trading was devoid of any particular feature. Funds continued to seek investment, with medium-priced issues favored over the bonds of the highest grade.

Railroad liens made the best showing, as new buying was attracted by the recent series of developments, indicating that the carriers were now more prosperous than at any time since the war. Baltimore Ohio 5s. Florida East Coast 5s. # The May Department Stores Co. operates a chain of department and dry goods stores which are located principally in St. Louis, Denver, Cleveland and Los Angeles. The Total sales of bonds: Today, $12,369,000; yesterday, $12,464,000; week ago, $14,107,000; year ago, $10,936,000; two years ago, $23,220,000. Cleveland and Los Angeles. The company was incorporated in 1910, since when sales and net earnings have shown a substantial growth. During the year which ended January 31, 1926, net sales totaled $97,117,891. This compares with the net sales of $30,347,482, reported in 1917. Net income in the last fiscal year reached a record figure of $6,800,312, this being more than double the net income reported ten years ago. Last year's earnings were equal to $11,92 per share on the common stock, as compared with earnings of $10,16 per share in the previous year. NEW YORK CURB TRANSACTIONS with earnings of $10.16 per share in the previous year. At the time of last report the company was in sound financial condition, since current assets exceeded current liabilities by more than $24.000.000. Bank loans amounted to $1,500,000. The company itself had no funded debt, while serial mortgage issues of subsidiaries totaled only $1,911,000. Dividends of 7 per cent have been paid on the preferred stock without interruption since the company was organized. On the common stock dividends have been paid continuously since 1911 at rates which have ranged between 1 per cent and 16 per cent. A stock dividend of 33 ½ per cent was paid in 1920, and one of 30 per cent was declared in 1922. Last week the common dividend rate was advanced from 10 per cent to 16 per cent, or to $8 a year. Crowds began to gather on the site of the schoolhouse with the dawn of the new day. They saw a flattened mass of wood and tin that looked like the debris of a dynamite explosion. This mass, which lay to one side of the foundation blocks, constituted about one-third of the schoolhouse itself. The other two-thirds had been strewn for a two-thirds had been strewn for a distance of two city blocks through a ravine to the northeast.

Little pine trees in this ravine were decorated with bits of paper and strips of clothing and, with the sun gleaming on them, looked like so many Christmas trees.

It was among these trees that most of the children were found, after the tornado had picked them up and carried them through the sir. One little girl said vectories. One little girl said yesterday that she felt as though she were in the "foy Josher" at an amuse-ment resort.

An Iron stove that had kept the little frame schoolhouse warm was found at the bottom of the ravine.

WHERE THE TWISTER TOUCHED EARTH. Queer were some of the tricks done by the tornado Tuesday at La Plata. Before it hit the schoolhouse, where the greatest loss of life was sustained, it lifted the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Della from its foundation and literally folded it up. The books in the library were torn to bits, as if by a grinding machine, and twisted by the characteristic action of the wind about a clump of saplings. The ruins of the house are shown in the top picture, while Miss Anne Della, who was in the house at the time, is shown at the left with the family cat, which came through the storm unscathed.
